

New Website Design – For Your Review

Dear Caleb, these are images (screenshots) of the new website design, printed so you can review them on paper.

This review is for the design and layout only: how the website will look. The texts, photos, prices and reviews shown are placeholders for now. The real information will be added when the website is built, based on your price lists and documents.

Please write any changes or comments directly on these pages. If anything is missing, or if you would like something changed, please let us know. This is the best time, before the website is built.

Note: the quote form and the bottom of the page (footer) appear at the end of every page of the website. To save paper, they are shown only once, at the end of the Home page.
